Dr. Anita Smith graduated from Oklahoma State University, earning her Bachelor's, Master's, and Ph.D. in Entomology. She taught entomology and biology at AWC until the time of her passing. She served as a role model for the women in her classroom, setting an example through her actions, dress, and demeanor. She strongly believed in the power of education and strove to support women as they furthered their education within the sciences.

Her husband, Dr. Matthew Smith, established a scholarship in her honor. The scholarship supports women in science transferring to a university.
